

WE WON'T TAKE THESE OFF UNTIL THE POWER IS BACK ON FOR EVERY ONE OF OUR CUSTOMERS.

At Dominion, thousands of linemen and support personnel are dedicated to one thing: restoring power quickly and safely.

As we all work together to recover from Hurricane Irene, we'd like to thank our customers for their patience and understanding.

This devastating storm knocked out power to 1.2 million Dominion customers. In response, we've mounted one of the largest restoration efforts in our company's history. Thousands of linemen and support personnel are on the ground now working to restore power. To speed our recovery, we've brought in crews from eight other states as far away as Michigan and Indiana. We're working literally around the clock to restore power to all our customers as quickly as possible.

If your power is out and you haven't reported it, please call 1-866-DOM-HELP. Visit dom.com for up-to-date information on our restoration progress.

Again, thank you for your patience. And we promise: the boots won't come off until the job is done.
